Common Rummy Terms

Rummy has several formats, and the rules determine what makes a completed hand. Before your first game, become familiar with these four terms:

- Set: Cards of matching rank in different suits.
- Sequence: Consecutive cards from one suit.
- Discard: A card released at the end of a turn.
- Declaration: Presenting a completed hand for checking.

13-Card Rummy Basics

In a common 13-card format, players begin with a hand of 13 cards and draw and discard during their turns. The usual requirement for a valid declaration includes at least two sequences, one of them pure. Other formats can set different requirements, so the selected tableâ€™s rules come first.
