Extra ₹500 on your first deposit of ₹1,000+

Latest Promo Code

If you searched “RummyCircle promo code today”, here’s the answer with a timestamp: RC2000 is live as of 8 June 2026 , applying a 100% match on your first deposit up to ₹2,000 .

We don’t take RummyCircle’s word for it. Verification means a team member opens the Add Cash screen, applies the code, and confirms the bonus preview renders before payment. That check ran this morning and RC2000 passed.

This page is the freshness check; the full breakdown of release rates, wagering mechanics and deposit maths lives in our RummyCircle promo code deep-dive . Read that before your first deposit — this page tells you whether the code works today, that one tells you whether it’s worth using .

Today’s Pre-Deposit Checklist

Sixty seconds of checking saves most of the bonus complaints we hear about. Run through this before you pay:

- Bonus preview visible? After applying RC2000, the Add Cash screen must show the bonus amount before payment. No preview means the code didn’t take — back out and re-enter it.
- Right deposit size? The match caps at ₹2,000. Depositing ₹5,000 still earns only ₹2,000 in bonus, so anything above the cap is just bankroll, not bonus leverage.
- First deposit, definitely? If you ever added cash to this account — even ₹25 years ago — RC2000 will silently fail and you’ll deposit with no bonus.
- Better reload available? Existing players occasionally get targeted offers in the promotions tab that beat the generic weekly code. Check before assuming.

- KYC sorted? RummyCircle lets you deposit before completing KYC but blocks withdrawals until it’s done. Finish verification first so winnings aren’t stuck later.

Terms That Actually Matter

The conditions that actually affect whether you see this money, stripped of the legal padding:

Release is wagering-tied. The ₹2,000 doesn’t arrive as withdrawable cash. It sits locked and converts in instalments as you play cash games — the more rake you generate, the faster it unlocks. RummyCircle’s release pace is meaningfully quicker than Junglee’s 2% drip, which is why we rate RC2000 well despite the smaller headline.

The weekly rotation matters for timing. RummyCircle refreshes its existing-player reload codes roughly weekly, and they typically carry expiry windows of a few days. If you’re an existing player landing here, today’s relevant code isn’t RC2000 — it’s whatever sits in your promotions tab right now, and it may be gone by the weekend. That short shelf life is the whole reason “today” searches exist.

One account per player. Same PAN, same device, same UPI handle — duplicate accounts get both accounts frozen, bonus and winnings included. With 40M+ registered players, RummyCircle’s duplicate detection is among the most aggressive in Indian rummy.

TDS is handled platform-side. One genuine RummyCircle advantage worth flagging on a deposit day: tax deduction at source on net winnings is computed and handled by the platform, so the amount you see at withdrawal is what lands in your bank. It doesn’t change the bonus maths, but it removes the nasty surprise some smaller apps spring at cash-out time.

Standard exclusions apply: restricted states can’t deposit, and you must be 18+. Set a deposit limit before you start — our responsible gaming page explains how.

How the Weekly Rotation Actually Works

Since the rotation is the reason “today” searches exist, here’s the pattern we’ve observed across months of checks.

The first-deposit code is the slow-moving piece — RC2000 has held for months because acquisition offers are brand furniture, not campaigns. What rotates is everything aimed at existing players: reload matches, deposit-day boosts and tournament-ticket bundles. New batches typically surface early in the week in the promotions tab, run for a handful of days, and quietly disappear — which is why a reload code from last week’s WhatsApp forward almost never works.

Two practical rules fall out of this. First, if you’re a new player, there’s no urgency theatre: RC2000 today is almost certainly RC2000 next week, so deposit when your bankroll plan says to, not when a countdown nudges you. Second, if you’re an existing player, the in-app promotions tab on the day you want to deposit is the only listing that matters — check it the same morning, because mid-week expiries are common and the better offers go first.

If the Code Doesn’t Work

Work through these in order:

- You’re not a genuinely new depositor. The single most common failure. The code is new-money only, no exceptions.
- The code changed since our last check. We verify frequently, but if RummyCircle rotates between checks, the in-app offers screen always shows what’s currently active for your account. Trust the app over any third-party site — including, on a bad day, this one.
- App version is stale. An outdated RummyCircle build sometimes fails to render the promo field at all. Update from the official site and retry.
- Region block. Players in restricted states see deposits disabled entirely — no code will fix that.

If RC2000 is dead and nothing in-app appeals, don’t force it. First-deposit offers are once per platform, and burning yours on a weak week is the one mistake you can’t undo.

Alternatives Worth Comparing

Before locking in your one first deposit with RummyCircle, see what’s verified elsewhere today:

- Junglee Rummy promo code today — JRWELCOME, 250% up to ₹5,250. Triple the headline of RC2000, but a far slower 2% release drip; better for high-volume players. Our Junglee Rummy review has the withdrawal test results.
- Rummy 365 — RB365MAX — a flat extra ₹500 on deposits of ₹1,000+, on top of its standard welcome package. Smaller number, much faster release, and the app itself topped our rankings; grab the Rummy 365 APK if you want the quicker-unlocking option.
- A23 Rummy promo code — A23FIRST with a ₹10,000 ceiling in instalments, plus the lowest minimum withdrawal (₹50) of the big brands.

The honest summary: RC2000 is the safe pick — modest headline, sensible release, on the platform our RummyCircle review found most reliable at scale. JRWELCOME is the bigger gamble on your own play volume, and Rummy 365 is the value pick for casual players. Whichever you choose, choose once — and check the verified date at the top of this page on the day you deposit.

How to Use the Code

Check the verified date at the top of this page — we re-test the code on a real RummyCircle deposit and stamp it. Last pass: 8 June 2026 .

Log in, tap Add Cash and pick your amount. ₹2,000 maxes out the 100% match; anything above that earns no extra bonus.

Tap the promo code field, enter RC2000 and apply. The screen previews the exact bonus — if no preview appears, do not pay yet.

Cash credits instantly; the bonus lands in your locked bonus balance and releases as you play cash games.

Save the applied-code confirmation screen. If the bonus doesn't credit, support resolves screenshot-backed claims far faster.

As of 8 June 2026, RC2000 is live — a 100% match on your first deposit up to ₹2,000. We re-verify it with a real deposit and update the stamp on this page whenever RummyCircle changes anything.

The first-deposit code stays stable for months, but reload codes for existing players rotate roughly weekly — new ones typically appear in the promotions tab early in the week and expire within days.

No. It's strictly a first-deposit code. Existing players should check the in-app promotions tab for this week's reload offer instead — those are usually smaller percentage matches with short expiry windows.

Three things: that the code preview shows the bonus before you pay, that you're depositing an amount the match fully covers (₹2,000 or less), and that this week's reload offers aren't better for your situation if you already have an account.

Yes — Junglee Rummy's JRWELCOME (250% up to ₹5,250) is the larger headline today, though it releases more slowly. Compare both on our best rummy bonuses page before committing your one first deposit.
