The Rs.41 join credit on Rummy Mate

What does the Rummy Mate card say before you install? The headline figure is a Rs.41 welcome credit for players who sign up, matched with a ₹100 minimum withdrawal on the cash-out side. Around those two anchors, the listing carries a 4.5 rating, 290K+ installs, and a 38 MB package running v2.5.18. The card was refreshed in Jan 2026 and applies an 18+ age rule at registration.

The Rs.41 join credit is the number that lands at registration, so it is the one to weigh when an account is first created. The ₹100 minimum payout works at the opposite end: a balance must reach ₹100 before a withdrawal request is accepted, and that threshold is the same for every player on the card. Payments are handled through UPI and Net Banking—the two lanes named on the listing—and no other method appears on the card.

The card keeps its technical side small as well. A 38 MB package downloads quickly, v2.5.18 is the build the listing points to, and the Jan 2026 refresh stamp means the entry is reasonably current. The 18+ rule at registration is the only eligibility condition stated on the card, and the 4.5 rating is the single quality signal the listing attaches to the app.

What ties the card together is the sequence: sign up to collect the Rs.41 credit, play toward the ₹100 floor, then cash out through UPI or Net Banking. The 290K+ install figure and the v2.5.18 version string are the remaining anchors a reader should note, and the Jan 2026 refresh date tells you when the listing was last updated. None of these figures promise future behaviour, so treat the card as a snapshot published by the site rather than a developer guarantee. Between the Rs.41 join credit and the ₹100 payout floor, the money path is short and clearly marked.

The Rummy Mate listing records a Rs.41 join offer, shown as the welcome deal for registration. The profile also lists a ₹100 minimum withdrawal, and the two figures must not be mixed up. Whether the Rs.41 offer carries conditions is defined by the operator's promotion terms, not this directory.

The minimum withdrawal amount on the Rummy Mate profile is ₹100, as recorded on the listing. The directory does not state how long a payout takes or how often withdrawals are processed; those details belong to the operator's cash-out policy and should be checked on the destination page.

The Rummy Mate profile names UPI and Net Banking as its payment methods, using exactly those listing names. No other methods are mentioned. Net Banking appears under that exact label, never as a generic bank transfer entry.

The Rummy Mate listing shows a 38 MB APK at version v2.5.18, with the refresh recorded as Jan 2026. Because the listing links a direct Android APK, players should check free device storage and expect an unknown-source install prompt.
