> Terms and Conditions for YonoNewGames.com explain website use, content limits, external links, referral disclosure, user duties and important safety rules.

These Terms and Conditions explain the rules for accessing and using YonoNewGames.com, including acceptable use, informational content, external links, referral disclosure, intellectual property, user responsibilities and important limitations.

Plain-language summary: YonoNewGames.com provides independent gaming-app information. Visitors may read and share page links responsibly, but they must not misuse the website, treat changing app information as a guarantee or assume that we own or control a third-party platform.

Terms and Conditions Scope and Acceptance

These Terms and Conditions apply to use of this domain, its public pages and website-controlled communication routes. By continuing to use the website, a visitor agrees to follow these rules together with the Privacy Policy and Disclaimer.

If a visitor does not agree with a rule on this page, they should stop using the website. Separate terms may apply after opening an external app, registration page, Telegram channel, payment provider or other third-party destination.

Terms and Conditions: Ten Rules at a Glance

- Use the website lawfully and responsibly.
- Treat content as general information.
- Verify changing details independently.
- Do not damage, scrape or misuse pages.
- Respect content and brand ownership.
- Review every external destination.
- Understand referral-link disclosure.
- Protect personal and payment information.
- Accept reasonable service limitations.
- Review the current version of these rules.

1. Informational Website Role

YonoNewGames.com publishes app guides, listed offers, Android setup information, account and payment reminders, troubleshooting notes and related resources. Content is provided for general information and comparison; it is not legal, financial or professional advice.

The website does not promise income, winnings, rewards, successful account approval, uninterrupted app access or successful withdrawals. A visitor remains responsible for evaluating any information before acting on it.

2. Lawful and Responsible Website Use

These Terms and Conditions allow visitors to browse public pages, use normal navigation, contact the website about its content and share page links for lawful personal purposes. Use must not interfere with the website, other visitors or any connected service.

Visitors must not:

- Attempt unauthorized access, security testing or account interference
- Send malware, harmful code, spam or deceptive messages
- Use automated tools in a way that overloads or disrupts the website
- Impersonate the website, its team or a third-party app operator
- Copy or republish substantial original content without permission
- Use website content for fraud, unlawful promotion or misleading claims

3. No Control Over Third-Party Accounts

YonoNewGames.com does not create, operate or manage a visitor's account on an external gaming platform. We cannot approve registration, reset an app password, provide an OTP, release a payment, process a withdrawal or change an external bonus.

Account, login, payment and eligibility questions must be taken to the official support route of the relevant third-party service. Visitors should not send us passwords, OTPs, UPI PINs, full payment-card details or private app credentials.

4. Content Accuracy, Offers and Updates

Under these Terms and Conditions, we try to make website information clear and useful, but app versions, file sizes, bonus amounts, promo codes, deposit or withdrawal limits, download counts, rules, links and availability can change without notice.

A listed figure describes information available during editorial review and is not a permanent promise by YonoNewGames.com. Visitors should verify important details on the relevant destination before downloading, registering, paying or relying on an offer.

5. Content, Copyright and Trademark Rights

Unless otherwise stated, original written content, page organization, custom graphics and website presentation may be protected by applicable intellectual-property rules. Limited personal reading and normal link sharing are permitted, but ownership is not transferred to the visitor.

Third-party game names, app logos, trademarks and brand references remain the property of their respective owners. Their appearance is for identification, commentary and informational comparison and does not by itself establish ownership, sponsorship or official affiliation.

6. External Links, Downloads and Referral Disclosure

The website may link to independently operated apps, registration pages, download destinations, Telegram channels, safety resources and payment-related information. External services set their own terms, privacy practices, permissions, security controls and support processes.

Some links may be promotional, affiliate-style or referral links. If a visitor follows one and completes an eligible action, the website may receive a benefit or commission without an additional website charge to the visitor. This does not guarantee an app, offer, payment or result.

Check before continuing: Review the destination address, requested permissions, current rules and support information before downloading an app, creating an account or making a payment.

7. Eligibility, Local Rules and Safer Use

These Terms and Conditions require a visitor to follow local law and satisfy any eligibility rule applied by an external platform. If an app, payment feature or gaming activity is restricted where the visitor lives, they should not use that feature.

Gaming or reward-based apps can involve financial loss. Visitors should set personal limits, avoid borrowed funds, protect account credentials and never treat gameplay as guaranteed income. General online-safety guidance is available from the Google Safety Centre and CERT-In .

8. Privacy, Cookies and Direct Communication

Website logs, cookies, analytics, security services and direct messages are addressed in the Privacy Policy . Visitors should review that page before sending information or changing browser privacy choices.

Information supplied in an email or message should be limited to what is necessary for a website question, correction or policy request. Sending information does not create an app-support, financial-advisory or professional-client relationship.

9. Availability, Warranties and Liability Limits

The website is provided on an “as available” basis. Pages may be updated, moved, temporarily unavailable or affected by hosting, maintenance, security, browser or network conditions. We do not guarantee continuous access or error-free operation.

To the extent permitted by applicable law, YonoNewGames.com is not responsible for a decision, loss, account issue, device problem, payment dispute or other consequence caused by reliance on changing information or by use of an independently operated external service. Mandatory consumer rights that cannot legally be excluded remain unaffected.

10. Access, Changes and General Provisions

We may restrict abusive traffic, protect website security, correct content, remove a link or change website functionality where reasonably necessary. These Terms and Conditions may also be revised when site practices, services or policy requirements materially change.

If one provision is found unenforceable, the remaining provisions should continue to apply to the extent permitted by law. A delay in enforcing a rule does not automatically waive that rule. Nothing on this page overrides rights or duties that applicable law does not allow the parties to exclude.

Terms and Conditions Review Policy

We review these Terms and Conditions when website services, contact routes, external-link practices or policy requirements materially change. Updated wording will appear on this page. Visitors should read the current version when they need the latest website rules.
