Terms for browsing and using the Rummy Swift directory.

- Refreshed 11 June 2026

By using Rummy Swift, you accept the directory as an informational resource only.

Fair use of the site

Do not abuse the site, try to impersonate the directory, or frame listings as official operator channels run by us.

What the content covers

The directory summarises third-party apps and destinations. It does not replace the terms, policies, or support channels of those third parties.

Limits on liability

We are not liable for losses, disputes, download trouble, or destination behaviour that happens after you leave this site. Always check the external flow yourself before acting.
