The signup credit is usually the first thing players weigh, and Yono Rummy states Rs.100 up front. The rest of the card follows the same direct style: a ₹100 minimum payout, 386K+ downloads, a 4.5 rating, 42 MB of install data, and a v2.14.6 build stamped Dec 2025. The table below holds the full set.

The Rs.100 signup credit on Yono Rummy

The Rs.100 signup credit is the headline number on the Yono Rummy card, and it is presented purely as a welcome credit for new players. It is a signup-context figure, not a deposit bonus, and the card does not attach matching terms to it. Notably, the signup credit and the withdrawal minimum sit at the same figure: Rs.100 in, ₹100 out. That symmetry removes the usual gap between the welcome amount and the first achievable payout, which keeps the offer simple to reason about end to end.

Withdrawal minimum and payment methods

On the withdrawal side, the minimum payout is ₹100. Payments run through UPI and Paytm, the only two rails the card names. Paytm is listed by name rather than as a generic wallet, and UPI appears alongside it. The age limit is 18+, and the v2.14.6 build with the Dec 2025 stamp closes out the technical record. Players who read the card from top to bottom will find no additional numbers beyond the ones above; the rating, the download count, and the build tag are the whole record. Every figure is quoted exactly as the listing shows it, and the page adds no opinion of its own. Blog , Privacy , Terms

Yes. The Yono Rummy listing names UPI and Paytm as its payment methods, and no other instruments are recorded on the page. If you want to use a different method, check the app's payment options after installation. The entry also records a 42 MB build at v2.14.6, updated Dec 2025.

The Yono Rummy page records a Rs.100 signup bonus and a ₹100 minimum withdrawal. The two figures happen to be equal, but their roles differ: Rs.100 is the welcome bonus credited at signup, while ₹100 is the smallest cashout the listing supports. Read the operator's terms for the conditions attached to both.

The Yono Rummy page records 386K+ downloads and a 4.5 rating. These are the figures printed on the listing, next to the 42 MB v2.14.6 build, the Rs.100 signup bonus and the ₹100 minimum withdrawal. The values are as recorded at listing time; the app's live store data would carry the current numbers.

The Yono Rummy listing shows a 42 MB APK at version v2.14.6, updated Dec 2025. The entry carries an 18+ age limit and names UPI and Paytm as its payment methods. Follow the install link on the listing and review the destination page before installing.

The Yono Rummy listing links to an Android install page rather than a direct APK download, so installation starts from that page. The entry records 386K+ downloads, a 4.5 rating and a 42 MB v2.14.6 build. Follow the link on the listing and review the page before installing, since the directory does not host the file.
